

WHEAT CROP SHORT IN FOREIGN CLIMES

MONTHLY REVIEW OF AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

America to Feed the World—This Country Will Be Called Upon to Furnish Breadstuffs for Almost the Whole of Europe—Shortage Amounts to 20 Per Cent.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The agricultural department has issued its monthly review of the foreign crop situation. The review says that all accounts agree in representing the Russian wheat crop as deficient, but as to the extent of the deficiency much difference of opinion exists. After quoting many dispatches painting the crop situation in various provinces in black colors and the statements of the United States consul at Odessa that this year's crop has proved a failure the review calls attention to the fact that since harvest Russia has exported grain "very freely." The review adds:

"The exports of wheat from Aug. 1 to Oct. 23 amounted to 4,152,840 quarters, against 2,855,040 quarters and 3,283,780 quarters during the corresponding period in 1896 and 1895, respectively. These very large exports have led commercial papers to withhold their credence from the more pessimistic of the reports which have been published. That the crop was deficient was admitted, but that the failure was so serious, as such reports implied, few of the grain dealers of western Europe believe. Recently, however, some change of attitude is becoming apparent. Stocks in the ports are not increasing in the manner usual for this time of year, and the opinion is freely expressed that after this month Russia can be relied on for only very moderate shipments."

"It is generally understood that Russia had large stocks of wheat left over from the crops of the preceding year, and this fact, coupled with the good prices which have prevailed, may account for the large exports which have taken place even though the crop failure in large parts of Russia has been extremely serious."

The preliminary official figures for France show a reduction of 26 per cent below 1896 and 17 per cent below the average for ten years. As for five years France and Russia produced 26 per cent of the world's crop, the review says a heavy shortage in both countries would therefore be sufficient in itself to produce a sensible effect on the world's supply, independent of the short crops in Austria-Hungary, the Danubian and Balkan countries and elsewhere, and the shortness of the last crop in India, Australia and Argentina.

The various estimates for Austria-Hungary are more or less conflicting, but there is no doubt as to there being a heavy deficit in the wheat crop.

The wheat crop of the United Kingdom is estimated at 50,333,000 bushels. The preliminary estimate of the Italian wheat crop makes it 85,131,000 bushels, against 144,722,700 bushels last year. The Roumanian wheat crop is estimated at 37,134,720 bushels. The Bulgarian wheat crop is estimated at 40 per cent, rye at 35 to 40 per cent and barley at 25 per cent less than last year. The wheat crop of Turkey has been estimated at 50,800,000 imperial bushels.

As regards crops now growing in the southern hemisphere, the news continues to be favorable on the whole. In Argentina drought, which for a time in some provinces threatened serious injury, seems to have been generally broken, and danger of any serious loss from such a source seems now, in the advanced state of the crop, to have passed.

The Indian wheat crop has been sown under favorable conditions and the same is in general true of the winter grain crops of Europe, and both in Europe and in India the weather seems in the main to have been favorable to the growth of the seed.

COLLAPSE OF THE A. P. A.

Supreme Headquarters Closed Owing to Political Dissensions.

New York, Nov. 17.—A dispatch from Washington to the World says: The supreme headquarters of the American Protective Association in this city have closed and the property in the way of office furniture, etc., has been sold under the hammer. The passing of the order as a national organization was caused chiefly by dissensions, which had their origin in the recent presidential campaign, and which have caused a falling off of more than 50 per cent in membership.

Claim Minnesota Cities.

Washington, Nov. 17.—C. B. Holloway of Holland, O., and A. U. Gunn of Maumee, O., claim an immense tract embracing 7,000,000 acres of land in the northwest and including the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Their ancestors, through whom they claim title, included Jonathan Carver, an Englishman, a well-known explorer in the last century. Carver lived among the Indians of the northwest, and it is claimed by the heirs that the natives presented him the vast tract. They assert that this tribal act was ratified by both King George III. and the continental congress.

NOVAK'S WITNESSES ABSENT.

Progress of the Trial at Vinton, Iowa, Is Delayed.

Vinton, Iowa, Nov. 17.—Progress in the Novak murder trial was slow Tuesday, owing to the non-arrival of the witnesses for the defense. The defense sprung at least one surprise during the afternoon. Joseph Stusak, who had been in the employ of the Novaks for four years, testified that on the night following the fire he went into the basement and with John Dusil turned the valves in the gas pipes, fearing there might be an explosion. The witnesses for the state testified that they found these valves shut off, and that the fire had caused them to become welded together, so that they could not turn them, indicating that they had been turned off before the fire.

Annie Zaborski, the defendant's sister, and her husband, Charles Zaborski, testified that they carried a stock of goods worth between $6,000 and $7,000 upon which there was insurance of $3,500; that the building was worth nearly $10,000 and was insured for $2,000. They also testified that directly above the sleeping room a number of caskets were kept, indicating they might have fallen on the body during the fire and caused the fracture of the skull.

Many are wondering whether Frank Novak will be placed on the stand in his own behalf. It is believed, however, from the questioning of his counsel during the last day or two, that it is the intention to do so.

MINERS REMAIN FIRM.

No Change in the Situation Around Wilmington, Ill.

Braidwood, Ill., Nov. 17.—There has been very little change in the strike situation in the Braidwood-Wilmington coalfields. There was not a digger in No. 3 shaft at Carbon Hill Tuesday, and only ten or twelve men went into No. 2 shaft, a short distance away. No attempt was made to interfere with these men, and three deputy sheriffs kicked their heels together and beat their breasts with their arms in lieu of any other means for keeping warm. Some idea of the intensity of feeling among the strikers may be gained from an occurrence at the funeral of a miner at Wilmington last week. The men turned out to pay their last respects to a dead companion and a volunteer was called for to carry the stars and stripes at the head of the procession. No one could be found, although some were there who had followed the flag where grape and cannister were the thickest during the war. It was one of these who remarked that the flag had ceased to mean anything to men in the condition of the miners.

Indianapolis Odd-Fellows.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—Four hundred representatives of the 10,996 members of the grand encampment Odd Fellows of Indiana were present at Tuesday's convention. During the last year the encampment spent $16,300 for the relief of patriarchs. During fifty years $376,540 has been expended in relief. The following officers were elected: Grand patriarch, J. R. McCoy, Peru; grand high priest, J. F. Mann, Decatur; grand senior warden, J. M. Muzum, Elwood; grand junior warden, J. C. Seacree, Mooresville; grand scribe, W. H. Leedy, Indianapolis; grand treasurer, A. C. Daily, Indianapolis; grand trustee, G. M. Bell, Dunkirk; grand representative to sovereign grand lodge, J. E. Bodine, Indianapolis.

Stand by Civil Service.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—The Supreme court of Indiana has placed itself squarely upon the side of civil service. Maurice Diggins has been a faithful janitor in the judges' room for several years and during the city campaign he took an active interest in politics. Statehouse Custodian Vest was appealed to by local influences to discharge Diggins and he dismissed him and appointed another janitor for the judges' rooms. The court refused to accept him, and made an order that Diggins should remain and be paid $50 a month out of money appropriated by the court.

German Trade Falling Off.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Consul Monaghan at Chemnitz in a report to the state department on Germany's exports to the United States says: "Germany is alarmed. Exports to the United States are dropping off. Nothing so alarming has appeared in twenty years. America was always the best customer in many lines of manufactures. In the September quarter of 1896 seventeen consular districts sent to the United States goods amounting to $14,481,414. In the same quarter of 1897 the same district sent $7,139,112. The average loss all over the empire is nearly 50 per cent."

Story of a Loan to Mexico.

City of Mexico, Nov. 17.—The report telegraphed abroad that the Rothschilds had offered to loan the government $150,000,000 for refunding the existing foreign debt is denied as absurd.

To Look After Legislation.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 17.—A special meeting of the American Railway Union will be held at Chicago November 22, at which representatives will be selected to attend the sessions of the legislatures in various states to look after railway interests.

POLICY OF DELAY ANGERS AUSTRIA

TURKEY FOLLOWS THE USUAL DILATORY PLAN.

Warships Ready for Action—Serious Trouble Promised in the Orient if the Demands of Austria Are Not Complied With—The Sultan Overrates His Power.

London, Nov. 17.—It now appears that the statement made yesterday in a special dispatch from Vienna that the Turkish government, in reply to the demands of Baron de Calice, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the porte, had agreed to salute the Austrian flag after dismissing the vali of Adana and the mutessari of Mersini for indignities offered to the Austrian Brazzafolli, was premature. The porte has not yet yielded to the Austrian demands.

Dispatches from Vienna announce that up to midnight no intimation had been received of the intention of the Turkish government to dismiss the offending officials or to salute the flag. If, however, the Austrian demands are not complied with by noon today, Baron de Calice will leave Constantinople and the Austrian warships will bombard Mersina.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says:

"It is now expected that the sultan will hold out until the last moment and then yield, which may appear to him a clever stroke of diplomacy and something for the Turkish official press to boast of, a semi-victory of the Padishah over the Christian powers. Eventually, however, it is as likely as not to prove an unmitigated blunder, the consequences of which will become manifest in the course of time. Abdul Hamid is evidently just now in a frame of mind calculated to inspire serious concern. His easy victory over the Greeks, together with the indulgence he was accustomed to expect from Germany until lately, completely turned his head."

SEALING CONFERENCE ENDS.

It Is Believed That the Trouble Is in a Fair Way to Be Settled.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The Bering sea meeting, in which representatives of Great Britain, Canada and the United States have participated, came to a close last night. The diplomatic representatives of the respective governments reached an understanding by which they hope at a later day to effect final adjustment, not only of the Bering sea question, but of other pending border controversies. For the present, however, no final action was taken as to the suspension of pelagic sealing. The Canadians urged that other questions be embraced in any plan of settlement, and suggested an international commission to accomplish this end. This proposition was fully discussed, and an agreement reached that the Canadian officials would put their views in writing after returning to Ottawa and submit them to the authorities here. All concerned say that the outlook is favorable to a satisfactory adjustment.

Regrets the Pope's Action.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 17.—Attorney-General Cameron of the Manitoba government, when asked for his opinion on the reported pronouncement by the pope on the Manitoba school question, in which it is declared that the children of Catholic parents should attend none but Catholic schools in Manitoba, said: "The decision of Rome, if correctly reported, is to be regretted. It seems remarkable, but the antagonism of the minority to the public school system has apparently rather increased than diminished since the settlement and probably will be still further increased by this decision. It would certainly seem that this is a most reactionary step on the part of the vatican."

May Call Out the Militia.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 17.—Adjt.-Gen. Miller of the state militia has received from Gov. Briggs telegraphic advice authorizing him to take whatever steps he deemed necessary in the protection of the two prisoners concerned in the Spicer murder by calling out the militia. Their cases will be passed upon by the court, which convenes Nov. 29.

Charged with Perjury.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 17.—J. A. Winstanley and C. J. Frederick, president and secretary respectively of the defunct New Albany (Ind.) banking company, were arrested in New Albany Tuesday and taken to Jeffersonville to answer indictments that have been returned against them in the Clark county (Ind.) circuit court, charging perjury.

Knights Select Chicago.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 17.—The general assembly of the Knights of Labor selected Chicago as the next place and the first Tuesday in November, 1898, as the time for their next meeting. Little else was done at the morning session. Reports from several minor committees were read, but nothing of importance was taken up. Grand Master Workman Hicks said the assembly would not complete its business before Saturday.

BANKERS IN JAIL ON FIFTEEN COUNTS

THREE ARRESTS MADE AT LANSING, MICHIGAN.

Excitement In Indiana—President Weathers Offers to Make All the Restitution In His Power—Hostile Crowd Gathers in English—Cashier Willett's Whereabouts.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 17.—Three arrests were made Tuesday in the defunct People's savings bank case, and more are promised by the prosecuting attorney. The persons first apprehended are: Charles H. Osband, late cashier of the bank, and Christian Breisch and Charles Broas, directors. Osband is charged with making five false entries in the books of the bank with intent to deceive bank officers, the officials of the state banking department and to defraud the bank and its depositors. There are fifteen counts in all, three under each charge. The entries specified were for $600, $1,200, $2,500, $4,500 and $5,000, in the order named, made between January, 1894, and May 6, 1896, the day before the bank commissioner called for a special report.

The law requires that each director shall own ten shares of the stock of the bank in his own name and unpledged in any way. Directors Broas and Breisch are charged with having subscribed to this oath at a time when all the stock in their names on the books of the bank was pledged to other banks as collateral. Each of the accused demanded an examination and gave $1,500 bail for his appearance. Osband will be examined Nov. 24 and the others Nov. 30.

EXCITEMENT AT ENGLISH.

Creditors of the Broken Banks Gather in the Town.

English, Ind., Nov. 17.—Tuesday was a day of excitement in Crawford county. Early in the morning the word went around that John H. Weathers, who, with R. W. Willett, managed the three banks that failed, would return to his home if protection were afforded. There was a hasty consultation of some of the larger creditors and it was decided that Sheriff Ballard should go to Corydon and accompany the fugitive home. The news spread rapidly, and before noon the creditors of the bank here, the one at Marengo and the one at Leavenworth began coming in on horseback. The farmers who had lost money gathered in little knots about the public square and held whispered conversations.

At 10 o'clock, when the sheriff was ready to set out for Corydon, ninety-five men, sturdy farmers, stepped forward and announced that they would go with him and see that Weathers arrived safely in town. The sheriff demurred, fearing that the men intended to do harm to the bank manager as soon as they got their eyes on him, but they were determined, and followed the officer of the law on the road to the county seat of Harrison county. In the meantime the crowd in this town grew, and it was plain to be seen that it was in a bad mood. There was a great outbreak of indignation when it was learned that Weathers had made an assignment to the Querkbackers of Louisville and that ex-Judge Peckinlaugh of Louisville had been engaged to defend him.

Late in the afternoon the crowd became so demonstrative that the city marshal swore in fifty deputies to aid him in preserving order. Not fewer than 1,000 persons—men, women and children—were at the station when the 6 o'clock train came in from Corydon. The crowd pressed forward, expecting to see the bank president, but he was not there. The citizens who had gone to Corydon with the sheriff explained that Weathers had gone to Leavenworth to transfer some property there before coming here.

The whereabouts of Cashier Willett are still unknown. Some believe that he is with his wife's people in Kentucky. Others think he is in Canada. President Weathers said last night that if he is not done personal violence and is allowed to realize on his holdings the creditors of the bank will receive at least 70 per cent of their money.

Confer with Weathers.

Corydon, Ind., Nov. 17.—Committees representing the depositors of the Crawford county defunct banks met John H. Weathers, president of the bank, here Tuesday and held a conference. R. C. Arnold of Leavenworth was appointed receiver and an investigation will begin at once. Mr. Weathers agreed to turn over all his property, worth several thousand dollars, to make good the loss as far as possible and to devote his entire time for one year in making collections in the interest of depositors.

Think It Was Willett.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 17.—It is thought that R. H. Willett, the defaulting and fugitive cashier of the Leavenworth national bank, passed through this city Saturday of last week.

Ohio's State Legislature.

Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—Statistics show that the house will consist of sixty-two Republicans and forty-two Democrats, and the senate of eighteen Democrats and seventeen Republicans, showing a Republican majority on joint session of fifteen.

BAPTISTS IN SESSION.

Open Their Annual Congress at Chicago Tuesday Afternoon.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—The fifteenth annual Baptist congress for the discussion of current questions opened Tuesday afternoon. When the president of the congress, the Rev. Adin A. Kendrick of St. Louis, called the meeting to order there were something like 600 men and women in the church. The members of the congress represented the leading lights of the Baptist church of many communities and the gatherings of former years, and it is expected this conference will go down into history as one of the crowning events of Baptist chronology.

Judge Henry V. Freeman and the Rev. Johnston Myers, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, delivered addresses of welcome, followed by the Rev. Mr. Kendrick's response.

The Rev. Mr. Myers outlined briefly the work of the congress in connection with his address of welcome. After making known the object of the congress as "that of promoting a healthful sentiment among Baptists through free and courteous discussion of current questions by suitable persons," the president announced the subject to be dwelt upon at the opening session: "Are the Teachings of the Apostles to Be of Equal Authority with Those of Christ?"

Prof. E. D. Burton of the University of Chicago was the first to read from a manuscript. In part Prof. Burton said: "The apostles whose writings are preserved in the new testament were undoubtedly men of high character, full of the holy spirit and of the fruits of the spirit. But they recognized in Jesus one far superior to themselves, who, unlike themselves, was sinless and perfect. This difference in character involves a difference in authority. Spiritual things are spiritually discerned, and the Sinless One has a knowledge of truth unattainable by others."

"Between the Christianity of Jesus and that of the apostles there is no essential difference as respects central and determinative truths. The teachings of Jesus are founded on the ultimate reality of things, which He directly perceived. The teachings of the apostles, in the main wholly accordant with those of Christ, are based on a less profound insight into the ultimate facts, and rest at times on faulty premises or reasoning.

"It must therefore be concluded that the apostles were true men endowed of God with the holy spirit, and faithfully transmitted the message they had received, but that the authority of Christ, the Son of God, who by virtue of his oneness with God, perfectly knew God and revealed Him to men, must outrank that of all men, even that of the prophets and apostles. He alone is our Lord and Master."

The Rev. William P. McKee, dean of the Frances Shimer academy of the University of Chicago, Mount Carroll, Ill., followed Prof. Burton. He spoke along practically the same lines.

At the session at night the question was: "Is Baptism a Prerequisite to the Lord's Supper?" One writer upon the subject was the Rev. O. P. Gifford of Buffalo, N. Y. In part the Rev. Mr. Gifford said:

"Before this body baptism means immersion. Then, is immersion a prerequisite to the Lord's supper? What do we mean by a prerequisite? Previously acquired, necessary as a condition of something following, a preliminary necessity. Can a body of men and women, consisting of affused or sprinkled believers in Christ, taking the name of church, observe the Lord's supper? Not if immersion is a prerequisite. Can an affused or sprinkled believer, sitting with immersed, taking with them of bread and wine, partake of the Lord's supper? Not if immersion is a prerequisite. The essence of the Lord's supper is in the power to discern the Lord's body. Immersed men who fail to discern the Lord's body do not observe the Lord's supper. Unimmersed men who do discern the Lord's body do discern the Lord's supper."

WORK OF ODD-FELLOWS.

Patriarchs Militant Choose John T. Blaney of Quincy as Chief.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 17.—The grand lodge of Illinois, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, met Tuesday night in the hall of the house of representatives at the state house. A reception was given by the Rebekah in the senate chamber in honor of the grand lodge.

The grand encampment met in the morning in the senate chamber. The attendance was large. The following officers were elected: Grand patriarch, John T. Blaney, Quincy; grand high priest, Robert Smith, Chicago; grand scribe, John C. Smith, Chicago; grand treasurer, John P. Foss, Chicago; grand senior warden, C. M. Lytle, Decatur; grand junior warden, George A. Seeley, Prairie City.

For One Memorial to George.

New York, Nov. 17.—It has been determined to appeal to the public at large for subscriptions to a memorial for Henry George, on the broadest grounds of respect for the memory of a man who devoted himself unselfishly to the public good and entirely irrespective of difference of opinion as to his economic or political views, in the hope that all the various projects which have sprung up in different parts of the country having this purpose in view can be brought into harmony.

INDIA WAS RESPONSIBLE.

Official Report as to the Bimetallic Situation.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The official report of the correspondence in regard to the bimetallic proposals of the United States monetary commission to the government of Great Britain, together with the report of the proceedings of the conference of the British premier, the secretary of state for India, the first lord of the treasury and the chancellor of the exchequer with the French ambassador and our commissioners, has reached this country.

The negotiations fell through, notwithstanding the expressed willingness of the French government to open its mints, owing to the rejection by the British government of the proposition to again open the Indian mints to the free coinage of silver. The government of Great Britain in making answer deferred to the wishes of the government of India.

The disturbance of values in India, with the attendant paralysis of trade at least temporarily, the fall of silver prices in India concurrently with the increase of gold prices in Europe and America, etc., are advanced, but the most potent reason urged against the proposition is that the burden of failure, if failure should come from the experiment for the re-establishment of bimetalism by France and the United States, must inevitably fall on India. Both the United States and France, the reply argues, with their supply of gold could to a greater or less extent protect themselves if the experiment did not succeed. In other words, the Indian government, as a preliminary proposition, declared that it could not risk the success of the suggested measure. The document contains a reservation which would seem to indicate that if the scope of the proposed experiment were sufficiently broadened, India might be willing at least to reconsider her refusal.

Call for Miners' Convention.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—The conference which was to have been held yesterday between a committee from the miners of the northern Illinois district and the operators did not come off. The operators did not attend. The miners' committee waited from 2 until 4 o'clock, and then issued a call for the miners of northern Illinois to meet in a general convention at Streator, Ill., Nov. 19. The miners expressed no doubts that the men would remain firm and not go to work at least before the meeting at Streator.

Pretext for More Ships.

London, Nov. 17.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "Not only the radical, but the clerical, journals are of the opinion that the conflict with the republic of Haiti and the attack on the missionaries in China will be used to influence German public feeling in favor of extensive naval plans."

No Advantage for Old Soldiers.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 17.—The Ohio Supreme court decided that the Clark law passed by the last legislature, requiring that in filling appointive county and city offices preference should be given to honorably discharged union soldiers, is invalid.

Rejected by the Pope.

London, Nov. 17.—The Daily Chronicle publishes the decision of the Pope on the Manitoba school question, confirming the Montreal Star's version, plainly setting forth that his holiness does not accept the Laurier-Greenway settlement.

Fearful Mortality in Cuba.

Havana, Nov. 17.—Nearly 75 per cent of the 400,000 helpless women, children and non-combatants in Cuba affected by former Captain General Weyler's policy are dead.

PAYS TO BE HONEST IN BUSINESS LIFE

THE ORIGINALITY OF TRUTH- FULNESS DISCUSSED.

N. C. Fowler, the Advertising Expert Tells Why It Pays to Be Square in Dealing With the Public—Other Devices Are Short-Lived.

(Copyright, 1897, by Nathl. C. Fowler, Jr.)

In these days of dishonesty, honesty is originality.

Honesty is the first law of business.

Honesty is the first law of success.

Dishonesty pays if the deceiver doesn't get caught.

The deceiver almost always does get caught.

Dishonest business methods and dishonest advertising, frequently brings transient profit.

The reckless player of whist, by disregarding every rule of whist often wins the first games.

The whist player following the tried rules of whist wins in the end.

There are fundamental principles, and to outrage them, is to lay the foundation of positive future failure.

Strong advertising statements are not necessarily false statements.

The advertiser who does not respect himself and his goods, and does not announce them in superlative terms, does not deserve public patronage.

A good thing to sell must be well spoken of.

Go back with me to the beginning of twenty-five years ago, and take note of the business signs of prosperity.

Come with me along the same streets today, and again read the signs.

How few of these signs mark the business places of schemers, boomers, liars, or mercenary thieves?

The signs of the honest houses remain intact.

He who would make quick success may consider dishonest business action and dishonest advertising.

He who would give his ability a chance, and his advertising an opportunity, will begin honestly, and stick to honesty.

I know there are many dishonest firms dishonestly advertising.

Watch the life of these firms, and see it fade.

There are many honest firms honestly advertising. Watch the life of these firms, and see it grow healthier and healthier.

Dishonesty is a drug in the advertising market.

Honesty is the only successful advertising commodity.

I am not telling the advertiser to be honest in his advertising from motives of principle, although his own conscience ought to be sufficient to make him honest.

I am telling him to be honest in his advertising from the standpoint of coldblooded business.

Dishonest advertising is like the flash in the pan, which scorches and does not cook the bread of trade.

If you are advertising honestly, be sure that your advertising appears to be as honest as it is.

The good of honest advertising is in the apparent honesty of it.

Don't hide your honesty under a bushel of doubt.

If you are honest in your advertising don't be afraid to make your advertising prove the honesty of it.

Wanted Actor Coming to Janesville With His New Play.

This is the time of romantic plays, and the public delight in those bold, dashing characters that swing through the historical stories of a century or two ago. Robert B. Mantell, upon whom has fallen the mantle of Foote and Wallace, has kept in the field of romance without intermission since the days in which he electrified America by his Loris Ipanoff, in "Fedora." Since that time he has been the great English exponent of French romance. There is a Gallic magnetism about him that lends a peculiar charm to such parts, and he is recognized today as the one man that can present them with full force and delicacy. His new play for this season is "A Secret Warrant" by W. A. Tremayne. The author has taken that period of French history when a courtesan ruled the people and it was death to throw back the handkerchief she might cast at the feet of one she favored. Mr. Mantell, as captain of the Kings Guards, is elected by the Regent's mistress for her dangerous fancy, and when she finds that the captain has another love and scorns her, she produces a letter de cachet and pursues him as relentlessly in her hate as she had before with her affection. Mantell is an ideal soldier and his enjoyment of the character can be discerned in every movement and every accent. He carries himself safely through many deadly perils at the point of his sword and always with a superb manliness that stamps him as a hero. He will be seen tomorrow night.

WANT BARBERS LICENSED

M. H. Whittaker Awakens Interest In Proposed Plan

M. H. Whittaker of this city, who is now organizing barber unions in the northern part of the state, is creating an interest among the tonsorial artists that will sooner or later result in the passing of a petition to the state legislature in the hopes of securing laws licensing barbers. Such bills were introduced at the recent session of the legislature of fourteen states, but in Minnesota only did the bill become a law.

This law really makes shaving a profession. The law provides for a board of examiners to examine into the skill of each man before he is granted a barber's license. The Minnesota board met for the first time in October, and it is too early yet to tell anything of the success of the scheme. This scheme is intended to insure a better class of workmen, and to incidentally crowd the inferior and cheap workmen out of the business. If a state organization is formed, a bill will not doubt be introduced in the next session of the legislature. The matter of Sunday closing is only incidental to the plan proposed by the international union. The result is not easily attained because of the fact that many proprietors of shops cannot close their shops, especially if they are in connection with hotels. Sunday closing is, however, in vogue in many smaller cities throughout the union and in several of the large cities, among which are Boston, Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Y. M. C. A. TEAM WINS AGAIN

MANTELL TOMORROW NIGHT

Noted Actor Coming to Janesville With His New Play.

This is the time of romantic plays, and the public delight in those bold, dashing characters that swing through the historical stories of a century or two ago. Robert B. Mantell, upon whom has fallen the mantle of Foote and Wallace, has kept in the field of romance without intermission since the days in which he electrified America by his Loris Ipanoff, in "Fedora." Since that time he has been the great English exponent of French romance. There is a Gallic magnetism about him that lends a peculiar charm to such parts, and he is recognized today as the one man that can present them with full force and delicacy. His new play for this season is "A Secret Warrant" by W. A. Tremayne. The author has taken that period of French history when a courtesan ruled the people and it was death to throw back the handkerchief she might cast at the feet of one she favored. Mr. Mantell, as captain of the Kings Guards, is elected by the Regent's mistress for her dangerous fancy, and when she finds that the captain has another love and scorns her, she produces a letter de cachet and pursues him as relentlessly in her hate as she had before with her affection. Mantell is an ideal soldier and his enjoyment of the character can be discerned in every movement and every accent. He carries himself safely through many deadly perils at the point of his sword and always with a superb manliness that stamps him as a hero. He will be seen tomorrow night.

WANT BARBERS LICENSED

M. H. Whittaker Awakens Interest In Proposed Plan

M. H. Whittaker of this city, who is now organizing barber unions in the northern part of the state, is creating an interest among the tonsorial artists that will sooner or later result in the passing of a petition to the state legislature in the hopes of securing laws licensing barbers. Such bills were introduced at the recent session of the legislature of fourteen states, but in Minnesota only did the bill become a law.

This law really makes shaving a profession. The law provides for a board of examiners to examine into the skill of each man before he is granted a barber's license. The Minnesota board met for the first time in October, and it is too early yet to tell anything of the success of the scheme. This scheme is intended to insure a better class of workmen, and to incidentally crowd the inferior and cheap workmen out of the business. If a state organization is formed, a bill will not doubt be introduced in the next session of the legislature. The matter of Sunday closing is only incidental to the plan proposed by the international union. The result is not easily attained because of the fact that many proprietors of shops cannot close their shops, especially if they are in connection with hotels. Sunday closing is, however, in vogue in many smaller cities throughout the union and in several of the large cities, among which are Boston, Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

A Library in Itself

Few people are able to buy as many books as they would like, yet it is possible without them to keep in touch with all the leaders of literature, as well as to follow the world's progress in every department of science and industry. The Youth's Companion already provides the means for more than half a million households—at an expense to each of $1.75 a year. Every issue of The Companion gives as much reading matter as a 12mo book of 175 pages, and The Companion comes every week. The quality of its contents is shown by the announcement for 1898, which promises contributions next year from the Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Rudyard Kipling, Speaker Reed, Capt. A. T. Mahan, Mary E. Wilkins, W. D. Howells, Lieutenant Peary, the Marquis of Dufferin, Senator Hoar, Justin McCarthy and more than two hundred other eminent men and women.

All new subscribers for 1898 will receive The Companion's gold embossed calendar, beautifully printed in twelve colors, and the paper will also be sent free from the time the subscription is received until January 1899. A handsome illustrated prospectus of the volume for 1898 will be sent to any one addressing

FIND DRESSER DEAD IN HIS JAIL CELL

FORMER JANESVILLE MAN IS NO MORE.

Arrested For Drunkenness, He Is Attacked By Heart Failure, and the End Comes—Brother Passed Away In Waupun Prison In the Same Manner Recently.

Frank Dresser, formerly of this city, and a brother of Clarence Dresser, who recently died in the state prison at Waupun, was found dead in his bed at the Madison jail. From all appearances he died from natural causes. Dresser had been put in jail for being a habitual drunkard. At the inquest Dr. E. W. Evans testified that he was called to make an examination of the body, which he did between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday morning, and from all appearances he thought death came from heart trouble. It having been stated that Dresser had been an habitual drinker and smoker of cigarettes, it would seem that this habit might have been one of the causes of heart trouble.

Heart Failure the Cause.

The jury, after full deliberation, returned a verdict that "Frank Dresser died of heart failure." It was only last Friday morning that Dresser stood before the Madison municipal court charged with drunkenness. He entered a plea of guilty, and, on account of his being an old offender he was sent to the county jail for ten days. About a year ago Dresser lost a child by death, and last week his wife died in Waupun. He had paid no attention to his wife or family for some time. Four months ago his brother, Clarence Dresser, died in the state prison under the same circumstances that surrounded his brother Frank.

The remains of Dresser were laid in the potter's field at Madison at the expense of the county.

BELOIT TEAM MAKES A CLAIM MINSTRELS TO SING FRIDAY

Wisconsin College Asserts Its Eleven Can Outplay Chicago.

Last week Chicago claimed it would beat Wisconsin because it had made a larger score against Beloit than did Wisconsin the week before. Beloit went into the Chicago game with three of its best men crippled, but said nothing, expecting it could go through the first half and get a touchdown, which it did. The end of the first half showed Chicago 6 and Beloit 6. The wind came up a hurricane in the last half straight down the field, and Hershberger, with its aid, kicked out a victory. With Hershberger out the score would have been much different, as Chicago claims that O'Dea won the Wisconsin game by his kicking. Hershberger was not in the Wisconsin game and Chicago was easily beaten. Wisconsin beat Chicago by more than double the score that she did Beloit the week before with the very same team.

Wisconsin was only able to make one touchdown on Beloit, and the same identical men played in both games, except that Brewer, the fastest Wisconsin end, played part of the first half in the Beloit game. Beloit made three yards' gain to Wisconsin's one and had the ball three-fifths of the time. O'Dea and Bliard alone stopped Beloit outscoring Wisconsin. Beloit was in splendid condition at Madison, but was not at Chicago, and believes it can now outplay Chicago.

Wild Cat Speculation and Gambling Followed by Smash of Banks.

Mines in old Mexico, bogus deals in real estate, a sock and even race-track gambling are as recent disclosures following bank smash ups in New York, all in the line of the rumormongers of the "bucket-shops" on a gigantic scale in that city and elsewhere, who have controlled many millions of gullible people's money. But there is a line of investment that has something more than a speculative prospect of success, and that is an investment in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters if you are troubled with constipation, biliousness, malaria, kidney trouble, or loss of strength or nerve quietude. Security against disease, no less than delivery from its clutches, is assured to those who seek the aid of this peerless preventive. In the preliminary stages of rheumatism, a disease difficult of annihilation in its chronic phase, and always dangerous because it is prone to attack the heart, the Bitters are a most desirable substitute for the poisons ineffectually used to eradicate it.

SOME LOCAL HORSE NEWS

JOE Patchen has been shipped 11,006 miles during the present season. Patchen holds the Janesville track record for a mile against time 2:04 3-4.

GEORGE SPREAR will train and drive for BUONICCONTI Bros. another year at least. He is in Minneapolis this week attending to some business matters, but will winter in Connecticut.

KIAMATH has lowered the track record for trotters from 2:11 1-2 to 2:10 at Santa Ana, Cal. Kiamath set the race trotting record for the Janesville track at 2:11 1-2 in 1895, but Governor Strong cut the record to 2:11 1-2 a year later.

WHEN "Uncle George" Fuller gave the handsome Philoidea a race record of 2:11 1-2 a couple of weeks ago, the pleased owner of the stallion presented him with a "little extra" of $500. Philoidea has raced here under Uncle George's guidance.

PEARL C. 206 1/2 is no longer a pacing queen, but she is still a champion, as she holds the half-mile track race record of 2:08, made this year at Muncie, Ind. Janesville people will remember Pearl C. as the trim little pacer that circled the Janesville track in 2:11 1-2, although the race was the 2.45 class.

THEY RIDICULE IT

MANY PEOPLE RIDICULE THE IDEA OF AN ABSOLUTE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH TROUBLES.

Ridicule, however, is not argument and facts are stubborn things.

Stomach troubles are so common and in many cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially on medicines.

This fear of being humbugged may be carried too far; so far, in fact, that many persons suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredients but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive elements, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, bismuth, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartics, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten promptly, thoroughly before it has time to ferment, soothe and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success. Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles because they act entirely upon the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, taken after meals, digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison as it creates gas acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite, and many other troubles which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. Address Stuart C. Marshall, Mich., for book on stomach diseases or ask your druggist for it.

Sprague's Original Georgias To Play at Popular Prices.

Minstrelsy is the oldest form of entertainment known to mankind. From prehistoric times to the present day, minstrelsy has been popular with all classes—never vulgar, never conveying hidden meanings, never degrading or debasing, it has always been pure and elevating, a form of innocent amusement to which the most optimistic could find no real objection. The position thus held through countless ages is becoming daily more and more pronounced, until now a genuine minstrel performance is a treat to be looked forward to with much pleasure. To the colored race, and particularly to the residents of our own southern states, is due much credit for this highly desirable condition. Nature has bestowed upon these people that happy disposition that breaks into the sweetest melody and shuffling feet almost unconsciously. Who has not heard of the sweet songs of the cotton field, of the grotesque dancing on the levee, of the whistling while the moon shines bright? In Sprague's Original Georgia Minstrels has been banded together the sweetest of the south's singers, the best of their dancers, the most melodious of their whistlers, the most comical natural comedians. They appear at the Myers Grand Friday night, Nov. 17, at popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents, which is certainly an amusement bargain seldom equaled and never surpassed.

You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. Instant relief and a certain cure are afforded by One Minute Cough Cure. C. D. Stevens.

The New Lake Shore Limited.

It is believed that perfection in car construction has been reached in the equipment of this train. The New York sleeper, for example, is composed of ten sections and two staterooms. Two of the sections at each end of the car are separated by partitions, thereby making them almost as exclusive as staterooms. One of the staterooms in this car is upholstered in red silk tapestry with draperies, carpet, etc., to harmonize. The other stateroom is upholstered in light green tapestry, with green draperies, etc. to correspond. The staterooms have the usual annexes and accommodations. The car has also an elegantly combined smoking and washroom. It is very richly inlaid, upholstered in plain olive-green plush, and draped with rich silk draperies. One particular beautiful feature of this room, as also of the ladies' toilet room, are mirrors over the wash stand. The inlaid work is of very exquisite design, and the frame work is supported by turned columns, brass caps and bases, the columns being inlaid with running vines. The car is built entirely of mahogany finished with inlaid work and mosaic lines. It is remarkable for its plain, natural effect, there being no moldings, and entirely plain services are seen in all directions. The doors are of solid wood, broken with inlaid lines and mosaic work. The ceilings are dome shape, the highlights being ornamented with gold. The upholstery of the body of the car is an olive green, special pattern. The general style of decoration is known as the Coolidge inlaid design.

The Limited leaves Chicago every day at 5:30 p. m., reaching New York at 6:30 p. m., Boston 9:05 p. m., next day. J. R. HURLEY, P. A., 100 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee, Wis. C. K. WILBER, Ass't G. P. A., Chicago.

Blanco Not Keeping His Promise.

Havana, Nov. 17.—The rabid Spaniards who believe that only by extermination of the race can the Cuban war be won openly challenge the good faith of Gen. Blanco's statements as to his intention to feed and find work for those whom Gen. Weyler has not killed. They jubilantly claim that the new captain-general is enforcing the barbarous "concentration" of the country people exactly as his predecessor did.

To Help the Girls, Too.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Secretary Wilson proposes to extend the benefits of the department to the farmers' wives and daughters. He claims that what has been done for the boys by agricultural colleges can be done for the girls in schools which will teach them the handicraft of the needle and other domestic sciences. The department can help them by its investigations on food products.

Delta, Colo., Bank Suspends.

Delta, Colo., Nov. 17.—The directors of the Delta County bank have concluded to suspend business and place the institution's affairs in the hands of an assignee. A. R. King was named for that position. The bank has been regarded as one of the soundest on the Western slope. The capital stock of the bank is $50,000, and the deposits, as near as can be learned, are $52,000.

More Efficient and Economical.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Brig.-Gen. J. C. Breckinridge, who recently inspected the volunteer soldiers' homes, will suggest in his report the creation of a new bureau of the war department to manage its affairs. The aim is to make the management of these homes more efficient and economical.

DECEIT MASKED BY CANDOR.
Half truth, more misleading than any falsehood, has been used freely by the Milwaukee Journal in its assaults on the state administration. Facts taken from official sources are twisted, distorted, made to bear upon subjects wholly foreign, given a significance in no wise justified.

An example is found in Monday's issue where the expenses of the state institutions for the year ending September 30, 1897, were stated at $821,995.68. Every effort is made to give the inference that this amount represents the running expenses for the year. The items charged against the various institutions are as follows: State hospital for insane, Mendota.....$119,410.91
Northern hospital, Oakdale.....130,661.75
Home for the feeble-minded, Chippewa Falls.....135,792.86
State prison, Waupun.....114,389.96
Industrial school for boys, Waukesha.....70,644.41
State public school, Sparta.....65,971.09
School for deaf, Delavan.....59,837.37
School for blind, Janesville.....47,322.07
Wisconsin Veteran's home, Waupaca.....74,074.26
Total.....$821,995.68

The candor of the Journal's comparisons may be tested by any item on the list.
At nearly every institution in the state substantial improvements have been made—improvements that would ordinarily have necessitated special appropriations. Buildings have been enlarged, new apparatus installed, lighting and heating plants replaced. All this has been done without a cent of extra cost to the state. The curtailment of operating charges and the watchful scrutiny of every item of expense left a balance to be applied to the much needed enlargements.

In few of the state institutions had enlargements kept pace with the growth of the state. There was work to be done which could be delayed no longer without serious consequences. Prompt attention was demanded and the only question was how funds should be obtained. A request for special appropriations was believed to be unavoidable, and would have been fully justified. In place of that the board of control has managed that improvements and operating expenses all have been covered by one set of appropriations and those no heavier than for operating expenses alone in former years.

Wanton disregard of these well-known facts is not the Journal's greatest offense against honesty. Its comparisons are based on $185,000 of "expense during 1897" at the home for feeble minded in Chippewa Falls. Let it be remembered that the Chippewa Falls home had been running less than a month when the fiscal year ended, and the Journal is comparing with totals for 1894 when the home was not in existence. This would be enough to disqualify the comparison utterly, but to make it still more inapplicable the Journal adds to the operating expenses for September, 1897, the entire cost of the building, about $128,000, and on this doctored total it bases high-sounding pleas for economy.
The state has been saved fully $200,000 and during the last two years by the economy and good management of a board of control organized on business principles. The money has gone into public improvements and not into the pockets of ringsters as during the well-remembered roster administration. Comparison of the two periods cannot bring credit to any of the Journal's friends and may very prudently be dropped.

PORTER FARMERS ARE BUSY

The Rain Enables Them To Take Tobacco Down—Other News.

Porter, Nov. 17.—The rain the first of the week enabled the farmers who wished to take their tobacco down. A number have not yet finished husking. Messrs. Jordan, Berry, and Russell have returned to their homes in Richland Center, having spent the summer here. Miss Mamie Tiernan spent the week before last in Cookeville. Mark Nickels arrived home from Iowa last Saturday. Frank Ross spent Tuesday and Wednesday last week at his parental home in Emerald Grove. Our town, feels rather "wealthy" since the Elgerton bank closed its doors. The "bikes" are having a rest this muggy weather. A party Thanksgiving night in Cookeville, is the chief attraction next week. Huyke's full orchestra will play. Some sheds to be used as a shelter for horses at the Catholic church here were blown last Wednesday night during the severe wind. They were new, having only been furnished recently. No blame is left on the builder.

TO LAY THE CORNER STONE

Professor Emerson Will Do the Work with His Own Hands.

The corner stone of Emerson hall, the beautiful new home for the young women of Beloit college, will be laid next Friday with simple and appropriate ceremonies. The exercises will be brief and simple, on account of the cold weather. Professor Joseph Emerson, the grand old man of the college in whose honor the hall was named, will lay the corner stone with his own hands. President Eaton will make a short address relative to the building. Music will be furnished by the young women of the college. These exercises will take place at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Contractor Stevens is pushing the work on the building. He has a force of twenty-five men laying the foundations and they are rapidly nearing completion. If the weather does not prevent he expects to have the superstructure well under way by the first of next year.

Catarrh is Curable..

We do not fail with our old tried MONOEPATHIC system to cure this great American scourge—Catarrh. Consumption is only the result of Catarrh, uncured. We have cured both conditions, not failing in one cure since locating in this city.

The Thermo-Ozone Generator.

A new discovery in medicine, is used by us daily. With it we cure by sending medicines directly into the blood. Noises in the Head, Ringing, Hissing, Buzzing, Deafness, positively cured.

We make a specialty of Head, Throat, Lung, and Female diseases.

We will cut regular prices square in two this month.

SAY FOLKS GAMBLE AT MILTON TOWN

SENSATION CAUSED IN THE COLLEGE VILLAGE.

W. H. Davidson Causes the Arrest of Frank Burhan, and It Is Said That Sunday School Boys Will Figure as Witnesses—Committee Makes an Investigation

Gambling at Milton! Can such things be? They say so, and under oath too. "In the very heart of the business portion of Milton gambling is carried on these days by men who are striving to ruin the good name of the college town."

That is the substance of the statement made by W. H. Davidson, of Milton, as he stood before the bar of justice in the municipal court yesterday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of one Frank Burhan.

The warrant was given to Under Sheriff Wallace Cochrane who drove to Milton yesterday and placed Burhan under arrest. At 10 o'clock this morning, in the municipal court, the accused appeared and was placed under $200 bonds for his appearance on the morning of Nov. 22.

Committee in Charge. It is said that Burhan has resided in Milton for some time, claiming to be a business man. W. H. Davidson and others having the interests of the town at heart, have heard some startling stories in reference to the running of certain roulette tables, wheels of fortune and poker tables. To get the facts together so as to warrant an arrest, was the next move. Hence, the law-abiding citizens of Milton then set about and selected their committee to look into the matter and giving them strict orders to obtain nothing but facts. These facts, they claim, are now at hand, and it is said that several Sunday school boys will be brought into the case as witnesses.

Burhan denies the charge and says that he will be able to prove certain facts when the proper time comes. Milton citizens say that they will tolerate no gambling in their town if it takes every cent in the town treasury to stop it.

And there you are. Erick Johnson in Jail. Erick Johnson of Afton, came to town yesterday afternoon and after filling up with howl producer, made a bee line for the Y. M. C. A. building, where he seated himself in the best chair in the house. Assistant Secretary Atkinson thinking the man was sick, tried to console him, but Johnson strongly objected to being consoled. Secretary Kline, who hasn't been training in gymnasium work all these years for nothing, gently laid his strong right hand on Johnson's neck, and the visitor was removed. The police were then called, and the man was jailed. This morning he was given three days in jail.

James Lewis, who drank not wisely but rather too copiously of Midway fight producer, threw stones through the "Kentucky saloon" window last night. Officer Smith arrested Lewis, and he's in jail for six days.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW.

Funeral of L. B. Reynolds. All that was mortal of one of Janesville's best citizens—L. B. Reynolds—was laid to rest at Oak Hill cemetery this afternoon. The funeral was held from the home, 254 South Jackson street, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Robert C. Denison, of the Congregational church officiated. The floral tributes were especially handsome. The pall bearers were the directors of the Janesville Machine Company, they being A. P. Lovejoy, S. C. Cobb, David Jeffries, Tiram Merrill, A. M. Valentine, J. G. Rexford, Richard Wiggin and James Harris.

Funeral of Charles Lawrence. The funeral of Charles W. Lawrence was held from the home on Chestnut street yesterday afternoon at half past two o'clock. Rev. Robert C. Denison, pastor of the Congregational church officiated. The shop mates of the deceased from the Janesville Machine Company attended in a body. The pall bearers were Horace Brundage, Norman Hiel, Fred Clifton, Curtis Kirkland, James Riey and John Foster, all shopmates of the deceased.

HOUGHTON WRITES OF SOUTH AFRICA

DIAMONDS AND OSTRICH FEATHERS PLENTIFUL.

Cities Are Progressive, and Have Free Public Libraries, Etc.—Diamonds and Ostrich Feathers a Large Factor in Trade—Laborers and Mechanics Get Good Wages.

Mrs. Walter Houghton of this city has received a letter from her husband, who is now in South Africa. It is dated October 14, and was mailed at Salt River, Cape Colony, South Africa, coming to America via England.

Mr. Houghton says that for several days before the ship landed the thermometer registered 95 degrees above zero. To sleep was almost impossible, but to stay on the deck when the ship was in motion, was very comfortable. Free concerts were given aboard every night, and it was an every day sight to see a dozen whales as well as hundreds of sharks.

After landing, Mr. Houghton hunted up the head offices of the Cape Government railroad, situated in Cape Town, and secured a position as engineer on the road, at once.

Cape Town a Fine City. Cape Town is a progressive city of some 100,000 population. It is the capital of Cape Colony and is the important seaport city of South Africa.

Here the houses of parliament are located—surrounded by gardens of roses—while a beautiful marble statue of Queen Victoria faces the main city park. The business houses are all up to date and have full lines of all articles on sale at good prices.

Diamonds and ostrich feather stores are numerous, while it is not an uncommon sight to see the average clerk with a diamond ring on his or her finger.

The railroad station is a beautiful building and each day at 10 a. m. and each evening at 9 p. m. a train leaves for Johannesburg which city is about 300 miles east of Kimberley. Crowds of men, women and children gather regularly at the station just to see the train leave. Negroes are plentiful and are to be seen in all walks of life, many wearing diamonds and dressed in the height of fashion.

Cities Are Developing. A fine public library, a free museum is in Cape Town, in fact, it is an up-to-date city in all respects and is improving rapidly.

Twenty-two miles from Cape Town is South Africa's leading summer resort, which bears the name of Simons Town. Here Mr. Houghton spent a day prior to going to work. Numerous beautiful cottages line the shore while in one place lives a sister to Cecil Rhodes.

Laborers find plenty of work while carpenters are scarce at $2.50 and $3.00 a day.

Mail steamers sail from England but once in two weeks.

SHE CLAIMS PAY AS A NURSE

Beloit Woman Seeks To Collect From An Estate. During a siege of sickness that lasted six years Miss Sarah J. Valentine acted as nurse to Mrs. Harriet Holmes, of Beloit. A year ago Mrs. Holmes died leaving an estate valued at about $800. For her services as nurse Miss Valentine brought in a bill against the estate for $1300 which they objected to paying. The matter was then taken before Judge J. W. Sale of the county court, where the plaintiff was allowed $150 for one year's work as nurse. The case was then appealed and came before the circuit court this afternoon.

At 3:45 o'clock this afternoon the jury brought in a verdict for $1,188 for the plaintiff.

Other Court Business. In the case of Kate Kendricks vs. Thomas Rooney, the plaintiff secured judgment in the sum of $1,378.33 damages.

Jos. Selwood vs. Chris. Roehl. Continued by consent without costs.

In the matter of the insolvency of H. T. Burtness. Jury waived.

Joseph McCullough vs. J. F. Barker et al. Continued by consent.

Joseph Drecher vs. Patrick J. Dulin. Continued by consent.

F. A. Taylor vs. A. W. Stevens & Son. Continued until November 22.

Charles Scherpy vs. J. B. Monroe. Motion made to reinstate the case on day calendar. Motion denied.

Charles J. Wehner vs. Karl Erdman et al. Said report as read was confirmed and said receiver and his bondsmen discharged. On motion of plaintiff's attorney ordered that the plaintiff have judgment for $359.81.

The Cause. Mrs. Goodly—To what do you attribute your uncontrollable appetite for strong drink? Is it hereditary?

Empty Eddie—No, mum; it's the first. Up-to-date.

Tough Luck. "We all have burdens to bear."

"But some of us have a double load; I have to walk the floor with twins every night."—Judge.

ROCK CO. BEETS ANALYZED

Agricultural Experiment Station Asks For More Samples From This Section. The experiment station of the state university has already analyzed over 1,000 samples of sugar beets grown from seed distributed through members of the legislature last spring.

Rock county has furnished twenty-two of these samples. Farmers are urged to send in as many samples of beets as possible in order to make a showing for the county.

All railroad companies (not express companies) have kindly agreed to carry packages containing three beets each free of charge. The station will furnish shipping tags and blanks to be filled out by grocers by request.

All beets for analysis must reach the station before December 1st, and none will be analyzed after that date, as we desire to make a report of investigations as early as possible.

EXPLAIN THE NEW SYSTEM

Traveling Public Much Interested in the Mileage Credit System. Ticket Agents E. J. STREET CLOSED UP BY RAILWAY CO.

NO INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS WERE BEGUN.

Wisconsin Carriage Top Co Took No Steps, and Ex-Mayor Baines Is Not In Town—Fences Built and Old Planking Torn Up—Excavations Begun.

That portion of Wall street from Marion street to the warehouse of the Schlitz Brewing company is no longer open to the public.

At 7 o'clock this morning the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago & Northwestern railroad companies jointly took possession of the same.

At 7:15 o'clock the railroad gates were lowered at the corner of Wall and Madison streets, while at the corner of Marion and Wall streets posts were set deep in the ground and a five foot fence was built across the street.

This blocks travel for all time to come on the Wall street crossing. As yet no injunction has been served on the company and in case one is, there is small hopes that those interested will receive much satisfaction.

Planks Torn Up. As soon as travel was blocked from both sides of the streets, Section Foreman Kuhlow of the Northwestern and Section Foreman Baeger of the St. Paul roads directed a dozen men to the work of removing all planks that have served on the crossing these many years. By noon every plank was moved to one side of the tracks and all signs of a crossing had disappeared.

During this time six other men were busily engaged in excavating in the center of the street where the iron pillars will rest on stone foundation to support the platform and shed which will swing across Wall street from Marion street to the Northwestern tracks.

The work of transforming Wall street into private property was commenced and finished in such quick order that but few realized the fact until it was all over.

Carriage Top Company Do Nothing. The Wisconsin Carriage Top Company object to the closing of the street but did nothing towards blocking the work of the Northwestern company.

Fred Vandewater stated today that although his company objected to such proceedings they intended to do nothing individually towards serving an injunction.

Ex-Mayor Frank S. Baines, the prime mover in the injunction matter, is now in the east on business.

APPLES ARE SCARCE AND HIGH. Eastern Crop Is Short—The Best Varieties To Buy.

Baldwin, Greening and Northern Spy apples are scarce and of poor quality this season. The best apples now offered are Ben Davis, Winesaps, Romanine and Willow Twigs. The main varieties of Southern apples are running from $2.25 to $3.50, according to quality. Canadian apples are worth from $4.25 to $4.50, and are scarce at that. Eastern crops are short this year, and the eastern prices are higher than western prices for fancy stock.

Apples of the late varieties are a month earlier in ripening this year, owing to the warm fall season.

TALKING IN THEIR SLEEP.

"You think I am dead,"
The apple tree said
"Because I have never a leaf to show,
Because I stand
And my branches droop
And the dull, gray mosses over me grow,
But I'm alive in trunk and shoot.
The buds of next May
I fold away,
But I pity the withered grass at my root."

"You think I am dead,"
The quick grass said,
Because I have parted with stem and blade,
But under the ground
I am safe and sound,
With the snow's thick blanket over me laid.
I'm all alive and ready to shoot
Should the spring of the year
Come dancing here,
But I pity the flower without branch or root."

"You think I am dead,"
A soft voice said,
Because not a branch or root I own.
I never have died,
But close I hide
In a plummy seed that the wind has sown.
Patient I wait through the long winter hours.
You will see me again.
I shall laugh at you then
Out of the eyes of a hundred flowers."
—Edith M. Thomas in Boston Journal.

"MRS. RESCUE."

We were between the Azores and Madeira, bound for a port in the West Indies, in the American ship Ben Joyce, when a curious thing happened one morning about an hour before daylight. The wind had died away soon after midnight, and by 2 o'clock the sea was like a mill pond. The ship was swinging her head to every point of the compass, and with the exception of the lookout man the watch on deck were catching 40 winks of sleep. I was that lookout man. It is required on all vessels at sea that the man on the bows shall be as wide awake in a calm as when the craft is moving, and I was digging my eyes and fighting away sleep when a curious sound from over the bows caught my ear. It was a dark night, with not a star visible, and I could not see beyond the end of the jib boom. As I listened to the noises the only thing I could compare it to was the noses of sharks bumping against a small boat. It would have been ridiculous to call to the mate and give him any such explanation, but I finally called his attention to the curious noises and left the cause to his own perception.

"There's a raft or boat out there," he said after a moment, "and the noise may be made by oars. I'll burn a port fire."

The port fire lighted up the sea for 100 feet around, and the first thing we saw was a ship's boat within 40 feet of us on the port bow. In the bottom of the boat were two human figures and one of them a woman, and all around the boat the sea was alive with sharks. They were diving under the boat, running their noses against it and seeking to upset it, and had it been a shore boat they would doubtless have had it over. As soon as we caught sight of the boat the mate ran to call the captain. By the time the captain had arrived the boat had drifted right down against us, and one of the crew lowered himself into her and made fast the painter. Then I got down to assist him, and we passed up the bodies, the man first. We might just as well have dropped him into the sea, for he had been dead for 24 hours at least. As we picked up the woman, having not a doubt that she was also dead, she moved and uttered a groan and gave us a great fright. We had her on board after a couple of minutes, and the small boat, which was a captain's gig, new and without a name, was later on hoisted up.

Captain Clark was a single man 30 years old, and neither of his mates was a married man. They found the woman greatly exhausted through thirst and hunger, but with life enough to build hopes on, and they handled her so well that at the end of an hour it was reported on deck that she was asleep and would probably pull through. An hour after daybreak a breeze came, and we got on our course, and after a careful inspection of the body of the strange man it was given a sailor's burial. His pockets turned out nothing but some tobacco and a few bits of silver, but he was recognized by all as a sailor. He had the dress and general look, and the initials "S. E. W." had been pricked on his left arm in India ink. The boat was provided with mast, sail and oars; but, as I said, she was new, freshly painted and had no name on her. We didn't do much wondering over it, as we knew the woman would explain all when she regained her strength, but all were glad that it had fallen to our lot to pick up the boat. It may surprise you to learn how long that woman slept. At intervals the captain raised her head to administer soup or drink, but not to actually interrupt her sleep, and she did not open her eyes until 30 hours had passed. Then sleep had brought her fully back to life. It was 24 hours later before we heard her story, or, to our unbounded amazement, learned that there was no story to tell. The woman could remember nothing of the past, not even her name.

If you have ever read Clark Russell, you will remember two such incidents in his books. You may have set them down as "sailors' yarns," but such things have happened on land a dozen times over. Every day for the last five years I have occupied a desk with a man who was practically drowned while bathing. After two hours' hard work they brought back the spark of life, but it was weeks before he left his bed. He began a new life at that point. All the previous 20 years were blotted out as if they had never been.

The woman awoke to find herself aboard a strange ship with strange men around her. She was a handsome, well formed woman, English in looks and speech and about 30 years of age. Her apparel was fine and costly, but she wore no jewelry and had neither a purse nor a cardcase. When asked how she came to be at sea in the gig, what was her name, whether she had visited Madeira or the Azores, if she lived in England, she could tell nothing, absolutely nothing. She began a new life as she opened her eyes in the cabin of the Joyce. These things all came to us on deck, because the case was a mystery and because the more it was talked over the sooner a solution might be found. After three or four days both cabin and fore-castle came to the same general conclusion, which was this: The sailor must have been rowing the woman out to a ship or from a ship to shore at one of the islands. The rig had just been bought by a merchantman, and its name had not yet been painted on. The boat had been driven ahead of a gale for three or four days, and she had been a biscuit or a drop of water. She must have sighted a score of ships in that great highway, but yet was not picked up. One would have thought the sailor would have borne up better than the woman, but he may not have been in good health.

That's the way we figured it out, and it looked reasonable enough, and of course the right thing to do was to leave the woman at Trinidad and report the case as widely as possible. Quietly enough, she fought and bawled this plan. Our captain was a good looking man, and, feeling that she owed him her life and doubtless being rather romantic by nature, what did she do but fall in love with him! That is only half the story. He fell head over heels in love with her. The position was most embarrassing for him, however. All of us were agreed that the woman was or had been a wife, though she had no finger ring to prove it. The chances were that she had a husband somewhere. And wouldn't the man search the whole world over to find and regain her? Captain Clark would not dare marry her under the circumstances. It was criminal even to love her. I think he saw things as an honorable man should, and yet he could not help loving her. When we reached Trinidad, he notified the English consul, placed the woman in the household of a friend and then sailed for the port of New York.

The story of our picking up the living and the dead was published far and wide. First and last it must have appeared in 500 newspapers, and sailors talked of it in a thousand ships. Three months passed before we returned to Trinidad, but no one had identified the woman. She had to have a name, and they had given her that of Mrs. Rescue. She was well and happy and glad to see her lover, and talk and argue as he would he could not convince her that any other man might have a claim on her. She simply repudiated the past. We got a charter for France, went to London in ballast and thence got a freight to Demerara. While the ship was discharging cargo Captain Clark went up to Trinidad. There was no news and no change. The publication of that story all over the world had not solved the mystery. No husband had come forward; no relatives had written. As our ship had been chartered to run between New York and Liverpool, Captain Clark decided to take Mrs. Rescue home with him, and this was done, and she was placed in the family of his sister on Long Island. I never saw her after the trip across, but I can tell you what followed.

When almost three years had elapsed and there was still no news, the two were married. The woman had not recovered one single point of memory. She was a stranger to herself. She had no country, no relatives, no name except by chance. After marriage the captain left the sea and went into the ship chandlery business in Brooklyn. One evening, two years after the wedding, the captain of an English tramp steamer just in called to ask for some information. He complained of not being well, and one thing leading to another, he finally related a tale of woe. Several years before, while his ship was at the Azores, his wife, who had been sent ashore in the morning, attempted to return about nightfall and just as a squall was coming up. The boat was upset and the occupants lost. They found neither the boat nor the bodies, but there wasn't the least doubt of the calamity. The loss of the wife so affected the husband that he was ill of brain fever for months, and he had never read a line of her rescue in midocean. There was the husband at last, and Captain Clark realized that he had rights before him. He had married the woman on chance, and chance had gone against him. They were alone in the office, and perhaps he thought of killing the man who had come to break up his happy home. It was only a step to the edge of the slip, and perhaps he thought of suicide as the best way out. The climax was a curious one, but in keeping. The strange captain, who had given his name as Burke, was looking at Captain Clark in a puzzled way and wondering why he should be so affected by the story when a yacht anchor swinging from a beam above his head parted its fastenings and fell upon him and crushed him to the floor, and though he did not die for two or three days he never spoke again.

C. B. LEWIS.

Making It Clear.

To confuse a witness is generally an easy task, and lawyers know no easier way than to may a witness explain the meaning of his words, knowing that very few people can do so without getting excited. Occasionally a victim resents this nagging and answers in a spirited and unexpected manner. A lawyer was cross examining a young girl of rather haughty temper. She had testified that she had seen the defendant "shy" a book at the plaintiff, and the lawyer had seized on the word.

"Shy—shy a book? What do you mean by that? Will you explain to the court what the word 'shy' means?"

The girl leaned over the desk beneath the witness box, picked up a lawbook and threw it at the lawyer's head, who dodged just in time.

"I think the court now understands the meaning of the word 'shy,'" said the judge gravely, and the girl was allowed to finish her testimony without further interruption. —Strand Magazine.

Woman's World.

Radeliffe College Girls.

Radeliffe college, which has just started on another year, was begun in 1878 under the name of the Society for the Collegiate Instruction of Women, or more familiarly the Harvard annex. In 1894 it was made a college under the name of Radeliffe, in honor of Anne Radeliffe, the first woman who gave money to Harvard. The instruction provided at Radeliffe is practically identical with that at Harvard. There are the same professors and the same curriculum. In 1896-7 there were 358 students. This year there are more.

It is supposed very generally that there is very little social life among the girls. Whenever this is mentioned to a Radeliffe girl she looks surprised, for Radeliffe girls seem to think that they have considerable social life—as much, anyway, as they have time for. It is true there is no dormitory life at Radeliffe. The girls who come from a distance board in private families. At the same time there is hardly a day when there is not something going on at college.

There are the various clubs. The Idler is the largest and a purely social one. It meets on alternate Fridays. Sometimes plays are given. Afterward there are dancing and refreshments. Twice a year the members of the Idler are "at home" to their friends at Fay House. The girls call these receptions "open meetings."

Among the other clubs are the French, English, German, History, Philosophy, Classical and Scientific. These clubs are partly social and partly literary. Then there is the athletic club for the girls who are fond of the gymnasium and outdoor sports. There are also class organizations and a number of smaller clubs.

Every Wednesday Mrs. Agassiz, Radeliffe's president; Miss Irwin, the dean, and Miss Coes, the secretary, receive in the parlor. All the larger clubs give at least one "open meeting" during the year. In addition to these club meetings and receptions there are other affairs which call the girls together—class meetings, dances and evening lectures. All of the evening lectures at Harvard are open to the Radeliffe girls. Living near a large city is always an advantage, for there are the theaters and concerts to be attended.

Latest in Waists and Blouses.

It is very certain that costumes made entirely of one handsome material take the palm for elegance among gowns designed for certain occasions. All tailor made gowns are thus "built." It is quite as certain, however, that for other requirements, no matter what has been said to the contrary, the dressy and beautiful separate waist, differing from the skirt, as a rule, in both fabric and coloring, will be as fashionably worn this winter as if this were the initial season of its vogue. There is no doubt about this assertion. The tailors and dressmakers protest against it, but the truth remains that at the most noted importing houses in the city, and throughout the country, will be found the most varied and elaborate display of dress and fancy waists that has ever been known in the history of trade and fashion and both for smartness, style and general attractiveness, the new models cannot well be surpassed. Seemingly the force of genius in this direction can no further go.

A feature of some of the latest silk, satin and velvet blouses is a detachable basque, which is fastened to the blouse by a folded girdle, a metal belt or ribbon band with empire bow on the left side. This makes a dressy finish to one of the most stylish and also convenient bodices that up to the present time have ever been invented. Some of the blouses remind one of the peplum of classic origin. Women with very wide hips do not find the short additions—tabs, crenelated or vandyke blouses, etc.—below the waist at all becoming in their case. The longer peplum style just referred to is very "complimentary."—New York Post.

Even in the Klondike.

Advices from the goldfields bring news of the Women's Klub of Klondike. Although just organized the society shows that it has already grasped the spirit and intention of the great movement. The little manual setting forth the practices and precepts of the klub, a few copies of which have found their way east, will gladden the heart of every aider and abettor of organized effort. From the list of subjects for discussion it will be seen that nothing of the slightest relevance to anything nearer than the antipodes will be allowed. She who looks for such topics as "How to Cut Ice," "The Way to Keep Warm With the Mercury at a Vanishing Point" and "A Comparative Analysis of the Gastronomic Merits of Rubber Boots and Boot Backs" will be disappointed. No regular day or date for the meetings of the klub is specified. The motto of the klub is "Kulture in Koldest Klondike." The colors are yellow and white, signifying the principal products of the region—gold and snow. The badge is in the form of a pin and bears the design of a gold pick rampant upon a field of ice. To this, its youngest daughter, so heartily in accord with its constitutional aims and interests, the General Federation of Women's Clubs has already sent a cordial invitation to become a member of the great body. It is really remarkable that, in spite of all topographical handicaps, these brave women of Klondike have at once set about the nowadays imperative detail of feminine existence—a klub.—Philadelphia Times.

The mourninglike garb so long worn by maids and waitresses is being displaced by pure white gowns. Certainly a fresh white gown, a sheer muslin apron with the folds still in it and a becoming cap are more appropriate for a well heated and brilliantly lighted dining room than the sable, nunlike uniform, and such a costume is much more comfortable for the wearer.

A school of housekeeping has been opened in Boston, where women who wish to become professionals in this branch of domestic service may be educated. A course of three months will be given and students thoroughly trained in all branches of housekeeping and domestic service.

Fifty Philadelphia young women have organized themselves into an auxiliary to the Woman's Health Protective association. The special line of work of the new club will be to assist in raising funds for a proposed pay hospital for contagious diseases.

A home for deaconesses is to be opened shortly in Jersey City. The project is in the hands of the Newark conference of the Woman's Methodist Home Missionary society.

Sashes Are in Vogue.

Sashes are in vogue and are to be worn of varying widths and textures, knotted, looped or left plain and falling to the hem of the skirt.

A pretty model is of rich, heavy black moire edged across the ends with full quilled ruffling of black lace, about a foot from the bottom is a border of cream colored applique lace put on bias. Another sash is also of moire edged all around with a scant ruching of black chin. Both of these are 18 inches wide and have only a bunch of loops where the plaited belt fastens at the waist.

A handsome sash for evening wear is of Roman striped silk, bordered and edged with platings of black brussels net. Another, of heliotrope satin and black thread lace, is knotted and looped at intervals of a foot as it falls on the skirt, the wide, soft folds of the satin giving an artistic effect.

The blouse bodice, in varying forms, has given rise to these sashes and they threaten to supersede belts, even for everyday house or street wear. The waist line is very much in evidence this season and modistes predict that it will not be long before the old time fashion of skirts sewed visibly to the corsage will come in style again. Already the new tea gowns and house gowns are made in this manner, although the line of joining is concealed, and it is just a step between that and the honest, old fashioned "body," with the skirt gathered simply on to it and strengthened with a cord, that our grandmothers wore.

Fifty Years Ago.

In picturing some of the conditions of life in her girlhood Mrs. M. E. W. Sherwood, in her "Epistle to Posterity," thus notes certain contrasts between that time and the present. In the early forties and fifties almost everybody "had enough to live on," and young ladies dressed well on $100 a year. The daughters of the richest man in Boston were dressed with scrupulous plainness, and the wife and mother owned one brocade, which did service for several years. Display was considered vulgar. Now, alas, only Queen Victoria dares to go shabby. Fine clothes have become a necessity to the lesser lights. The greater proportion of people were happier because there was not such emulation, such vulgar striving nor such soaring, foolish ambitions. Then men and women fell back on their own minds for that entertainment which they now seek in fast horses, yachts, great and constant change, journeys to Europe and to Newport. Books took the place of dress and display. When a young lady was introduced into society, one bouquet did duty for the 75 which now are considered quite too few. There was a sober elegance among even the first in position and the richest in pocket. There was no talk about money. It has become a subject of conversation since the war.

A Brave Pioneer.

Three ushers, the manager of the theater and a policeman tried to induce an Atlanta woman to remove a particularly objectionable "picture hat" from her head while Governor Bob Taylor of Tennessee was delivering his lecture with fiddle accompaniment. The lady claimed that her hat was no more of an annoyance to men than was their habit of brushing by her or compelling her to rise when they wanted to leave the theater to get a drink. She said further that when that peculiar nuisance, to which all women are continually subjected in theaters everywhere, was abolished she would consent to remove her hat, but not until then. She was a brave pioneer for a reform that should be instituted in the management of nearly every theater.—Exchange.

Braiding and Bands.

On cloth gowns for demireux wear braiding in tan and gold is much employed, and black and steel appear on gowns of prelate purple and danish blue. Some of the gray wool gowns are decorated with rows of black velvet or gimp in dark shades of red, and it is quite noticeable among the imported models that the skirt and waist are so trimmed that the effect is of a garment cut in one continuous length, the gimp or velvet bands carried from shoulder to corsage edge, and upon the dress skirt just beneath this edge begins a similar band that is carried down the skirt in broken lengths, and this is a style to be particularly commended to rather stout women or those who are short waisted.—Exchange.

A Candidate For President.

A candidate for the presidency in 1900 will be Mrs. Josephine K. Henry, who wishes to be nominated on the prohibition and agnostic tickets. With her election there would be no further opposition to extending the franchise to women, the Dingley tariff law would be repealed, the government would become the owner of coal mines, railways, telegraph and telephone lines, social functions would be abolished or simplified, and Sabbath observance would be discouraged. Mrs. Henry is a Kentucky woman of education and many accomplishments. While she is a prohibitionist she will not be connected with any other order and even refuses to join the Women's Christian Temperance union.—New York Tribune.

Bertha V. Thompson.

Bertha V. Thompson, a bright young woman who graduated in 1892 at a Chicago medical college, has been appointed city physician of Oshkosh, Wis., by Mayor Ideson, to succeed Dr. R. N. Nitzel, the regular city physician, who has been suspended from duty pending an investigation. Dr. Thompson is the first woman to hold the office of city physician in the state of Wisconsin. She was born in Neenah, Wis., and was a teacher for a few years and then served as nurse in hospitals before studying medicine. She is the only woman physician in Oshkosh.

Wants.

The Gazette want column brings good results.

The Garland Helps The Cook.

No kitchen complete without the Garland.

No parlor or sitting room as thoroughly heated by any stove as with a Garland.

No stove store complete without the Garland on sale.

That's why our store is the greatest stove store in Southern Wisconsin.

Garlands, and many other good makes, together with the fact of our never being undersold, compels trade, so to speak, to seek our goods.

We are not stuck up, however; you'll find us very anxious to sell.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

A Favorite Remark

Of young men of limited means: If I could afford it, I'd always go to a tailor. Now a suit of clothes I make will last twice as long, and fit twice as good, as a ready made, and more than pays for itself in the satisfaction it brings. As for price: Put ours and the ready-made side by side, and it will be hard to tell them apart.
